Dear Sir,

Greetings!

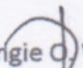

The Everlasting Publishing Company is a sole distributor of "Math Made Easy" handbook. This handbook specially design to zest the interest of the students in learning mathematics. It will help them develop logical thinking, it also contain tricks to hone their skills in problem solving and task computation without using calculator.

In this connection the undersigned would like to ask permission that we would be allowed to share a 5 minutes discussion about the contents of this handbook to your intermediate and junior high students in your schools.

It is also understood that the purchase of this handbook is strictly on voluntary basis on the part of the students and parents. The schools that we visited will also receive a copy of this handbook.

Thank you very much for the kind favour. May God bless you and more power!

Respectfully yours,

Rangie O. Vertudazo
